What are the challenges one faces when encouraging colleagues to use social media tools? This session will describe the use of wikis in planning, research and training in a post secondary environment. A collection of potential strategies will be presented in order to address various expressions of reticence and anxiety that you may encounter among professionals who demonstrate diverse levels of technical ability and confidence.