Rosetta Stone, the world’s leading provider of language learning solutions on CD and online, offers the language skills necessary to compete in today's global markets. The ability to reduce language barriers in any market is the key to success. Language is the source of community. If you can communicate, you can connect. And if you can help people connect, you create opportunity. Rosetta Stone's Dynamic Immersion® will make your language-learning fast, easy and effective by teaching you a new language the same way that you learned your first language—with no translation. The most widely used language-learning software in the world, Rosetta Stone has been adopted successfully by thousands of organizations including Fortune 500® companies, corporations, government agencies, community organizations and tens of thousands of schools and universities. Rosetta Stone is proven to be the most effective way for millions of people around the world to learn new languages.