The Technological Challenges In The Delivery At A Distance Of A Second Language Computer Mediated Program. What Can Technology Do For Us?

Nebojsa Radic, Univ. of Auckland, Aotearoa / New Zealand

The delivery and effective teaching of computer mediated language courses delivered at a distance is a challenge for both language teachers and technology experts. At Auckland we are trying to open widely the lines of communication.